crushing defeat of the Democracy. It says: From the apparently cordial union in the out-set of all the factions of the New York democracy upon their State ticket and the common platform of the administration, and from the division of our opposition forces into three clash-ing and irreconcilable factions, we have heretofore considered the success of the democratic party in our November State election as hardly admissable of a doubt. But recent develop-ments and events, here and elsewhere, have disripated all these favorable anticipations, and now, from all the lights and shadows, facts and of the original names, though evidently written testimony before us, we frankly confess that we by the same hand and pen, and the document anticipate nothing else than a ceushing defeat of our demoralized democracy in November—a defeat which will include the election of Morgan 1, 1853, (being the commencement of the united and his State ticket, an opposition Legislature, and an increased opposition delegation in Con-
